ATTN: Subj: DDCI Article for DDA Exchange
Don: 1. Dolores and I met this afternoon to discuss ideas for Mr. Carlucci's article in the July issue of DDA Exchange. The idea that both of us find attractive is simply to construct a schedule of his typical day and, using this as a frame for a "diary," briefly describe or comment on each of the appointments in a way that will illustrate the range and scope of activities in which he is engaged and by implication reflect some of his personality, philosophy, and interests. 2. Dolores said she would be very comfortable in preparing a draft along these lines and so, for now, she has the action. 3. Since she will be on leave for the next few days, we have agreed that we will get together again on 8 June. Nice idea, I like it. Th. Dan 25 May 1979 Helen Helen SIGNATURE

Helen -

Carlucci agrees to article in DDA exchange. We need to develop draft - it is wide open as far as subject matter.
You talk to Dolores : between you come up with some ideas.
I'll be glad to consult with you on it.
